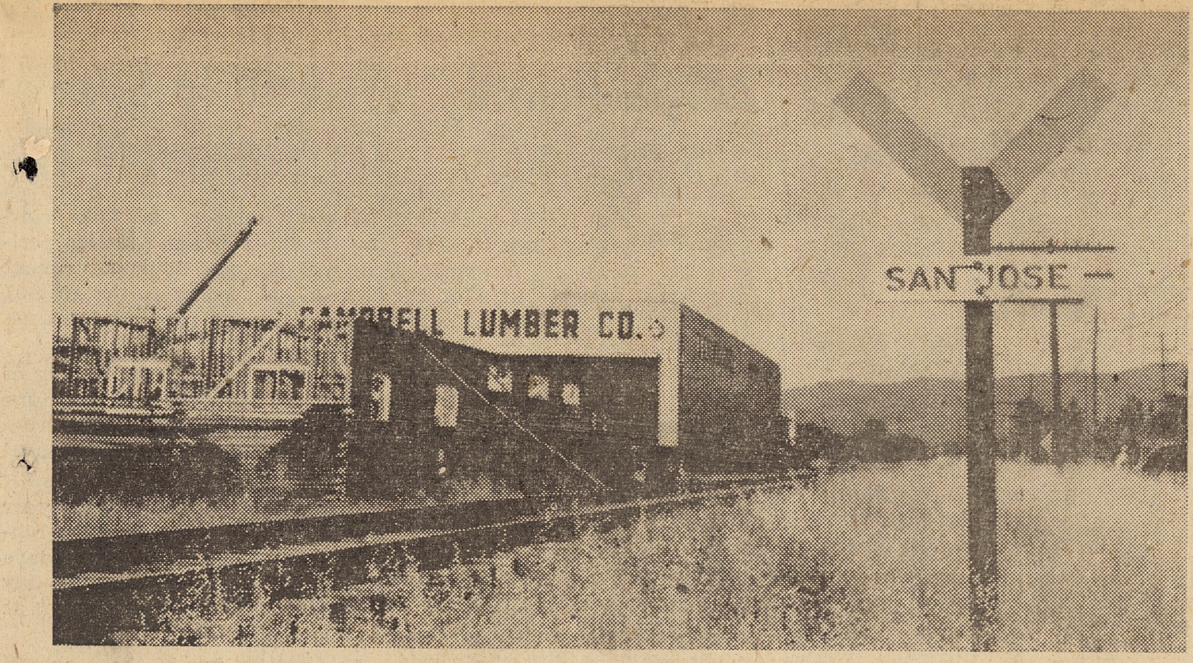
A GROWING NEWSPAPER A GROWING COMMUNITY

Vol. 64, No. 24 CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA 10c Thurs., June 14, 1956



WHO'S ON FIRST . . . For posterity, or for anyone else who is interested, the above picture could be a little confusing, depending on how one looks at it. The sign on the S. P. railroad tracks indicates that one is entering San Jose but in the background looms the sign on the almost completed new Campbell Lumber Co. building clearly within the City of Campbell. On Monday night the City Council is expected to take action which will make the railroad sign even more incongruous. A petition is before the Council requesting that 57 acres south of Campbell Lumber join the city . . . Campbell, that is—Photo by Lafferty.

Planners Turn Down Zone-Change Request

Lack of control over the type of industry that could move in once the parcel was rezoned played an important part in a decision of the Planning Commission last Thursday night.

By a 6-1 vote the Commissioners denied the application of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Burda to change the zoning of their property at 60 Mission Way from residential to light industrial.

The denial vote came at the close of the public hearing at which a number of residents in the area had registered protests against the zone-change because of what the future might bring to the area.

Hatchery O. K.

The Burdas, who now hold a permit to operate the Campbell Hatchery at the same location, told the Commission that they planned to have a woodworking shop there where flower boxes, outdoor chairs and similar items could be manufactured. The hatchery is not now in operation.

Mrs. Burda told the Commissioners that only women would be employed at the establishment and that in no way would it constitute a nuisance. She said the building was now vacant and that the hatchery that could operate there would bother the neighborhood much more.

She claimed if the neighbors wanted it "so nice and quiet" they should buy it rather than protesting a progressive move.

The Burdas were supported in their request by John Roman, of Los Altos, and Dan Tresadan of San Jose.

Residents Protest

A petition signed by 29 residents was presented to the Commision and William C. Henley, 121 S. Winchester, and F. R. Herring, 31 Mission Way, representing the petitioners, spoke against the rezoning. They claimed that the neighborhood did not want a zoning change. Henley also said that the residents were not against the woodworking firm but felt that rezoning would allow almost any type of industry to come in.

Burda said he would be forced to reopen the hatchery if the rezoning application was denied. He also admitted that he plans to sell the property and the new owners were the ones who planned to operate the woodworking shop. Jim Tomlinson moved for the denial after Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, read the list of possible industries that could be allowed in the location once the zone was changed. Commissioner Ted Solari was the lone vote in favor of the application. The Burdas may still appeal to the City Council to override the denial.

Other Actions

In other actions, the Commission:

1. Approved the application of Camp and Sondeno for a zone-change from a single family zoning to multiple dwelling in the Sunberry Gardens Unit No. 2.

2. Approved the zone change from residential to commercial for the area along the east side of Winchester Road from the Assembly of God church property to Latimer Ave. after hearing that Myron English (the original applicant) and the church had worked out an amicable exchange of property.

3. Set July 5 as the public hearing date for the zone-change from M-1-S to C-2-S on the west side of San Jose-Los Gatos Road between Hamilton and Campbell avenues.

4. Set July 5 also as the public hearing date for various amendments to Ordinance No. 43 which would clarify the language of the ordinance in several parts.

5. Granted architectural approval for the plans of M. Tock for a three-unit dwelling at 702 E. Campbell Ave. The Commission had previously denied a zone variance for the property but had been subsequently overruled by the City Council.

On The Line in Campbell

Mrs. Earl Handley, Campbell chairman of Guide Dogs for the Blind, is making a special appeal to local residents this week for extended support of the 1956 campaign for memberships. Mrs. Handley reports that the Campbell area is lagging behind last year's quota. She pointed out that each man-dog unit costs $1500 but there is no charge to the blind for the in-resident training course or the Guide Dog.

He attended College of Pacific and was graduated from San Jose State and taught for three years in Madera County, where he served as principal of the Ashview School at Chowchilla.

Joe McKinnon Dies; Slaght Assumes Office

Death accomplished in one stroke last Wednesday night what no human opponent had been able to do in 30 years, defeat Joe McKinnon.

This week for the first time in 30 years this area (Supervisorial District No. 4) had a different figure in its supervisor's chair at the county court house. On Monday the Board of Supervisors appointed Oran L. Slaght, a Bank of America vice-president and a resident of Los Gatos, to the vacancy created by the death of Joseph McKinnon, 77.

Supervisor McKinnon who resided on the 27-acre prune ranch originally set out by his father on Saratoga Ave., near the Moreland School, died last Wednesday night at O'Connor Hospital where he had undergone emergency surgery for a stomach ulcer. This coupled with his age and a heart condition was reported to have been the cause of his death.

Elected Eight Times

The veteran supervisor, who was elected from this district for eight terms (in six of them he was voted into office in the primary), was brought by his parents to Santa Clara County when he was a small child. As a young man he engaged in mercantile business in San Francisco and then served on the police department in Hawaii and as an attache to the attorney general's office for 14 years.

In 1915 he returned to Santa Clara County and took up ranching. In 1926 he was elected to serve his first term as supervisor, succeeding T. P. Martin, who had been appointed to fill the post of the late John Roll.

Board Chairman

He served continuously as board chairman from 1934 to 1948 and was elected again to that position in 1953. He was active in civic and fraternal organizations. He was a member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club and also belonged to the Masons, Shrine Club and Native Son of the Golden West.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Santa Clara Funeral Home with Rev. James H. Strayer, of the Calvary Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in the Santa Clara City Cemetery. Active pallbearers were his friends and associates of 30 years and included, Keith Owen, Harold Jepsen, Louis Bergna, Roger Nash, Manuel Mello, Jr. and Earl Stuart. His fellow supervisors were among the honorary pallbearers.

JOE McKINNON
. . . 30 Years in Office

A bachelor, Mr. McKinnon is survived by a brother, Herbert D. McKinnon of Fresno and a sister, Lillian M. Elberg of Sacramento.

Supervisor Slaght

The appointment of Slaght as Joe McKinnon's successor on the board brought to an end speculation that had arisen from many quarters and had listed a number of other county leaders as potential supervisors. Supervisor Slaght's appointment is effective until the results of the November election are official. The new supervisor has announced that he will seek election as supervisor in November.

Supervisor Slaght, 64, is a native of San Jose and has been with the Bank of America for 39 years. He is expected to retire from his banking position next month and devote his full time to county business.

Shopping Center Starts Extension

Construction is expected to start immediately on the extension of the Campbell Shopping Center at Latimer Ave. and Winchester Road. The unit will be 100-feet in width with a depth of 70-feet and will tie onto the present shopping center in which the new Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy and Lee Bros. Market are located.

The Laurel Variety Store of San Carlos has signed a 10-year lease for 50-feet of the new unit. The remaining 50-feet is still to be leased.

In the meantime work is being rushed to completion on the 25-foot store next to the Campbell Drugs which will be occupied by the Sunshine Toy and Card Co. of San Jose. The store plans to open in July.

Four stores still remain to be leased in this unit. Eventually it is planned to have a store frontage of 450-feet. The final 200-feet will be built as soon as tenants are available. The entire shopping center, including Lee Bros., occupies eight acres, five of which are for parking.

GRASS FIRE TUESDAY

When Campbell Fire Department was alerted last Tuesday afternoon, they sped out to Winchester Road and El Caminito, where they quickly extinguished a grass fire in a vacant lot.

NUMBERS KEEP ROLLING ALONG

Progress was reported this week on the house numbering front from both the county and the city.

W. L. (Bud) Morser, Campbell building inspector, announced that all residents in two areas had been officially notified of their new numbers and his office was starting on the third section of town.

The building inspector also cleared up another point. He reported that any registered voter who has had a house number change (almost everyone in Campbell) must notify the County Registrar of Voters of the change in order to keep eligible to vote. A phone call to the registrar in San Jose is all that is necessary, he said.

On the county front, Joe Bonacina, Campbell City attorney, reported that indications appear favorable for the county to adopt the Campbell system of numbering in the entire Campbell postal district which includes considerable county territory. A conference on the subject between county and city officials and Postmaster Ira Grim of Campbell was held last Thursday to work out preliminary details.

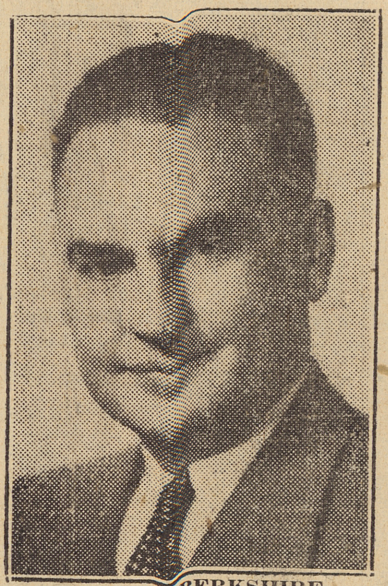
Local Democrats To Meet Tonight

Campbell Democratic Club invites the public to attend their meeting at Rosemary School at 8 tonight when the group will organize a precinct set-up and make plans to renew their drive for members and precinct workers.

William Lawrence, Democratic precinct chairman for Santa Clara County, will be on hand to start work on the precinct organization.

It was announced recently that the local group was one of the first Democratic Clubs in the county to meet the quota for the recent Richard Richards campaign for U. S. Senator.

Mrs. William Lawrence, president of the Campbell club, will preside at the meeting.



LISLE L. BERKSHIRE
. . . Speaks Here Wednesday

National C. of C. Official Speaks Here Wednesday

"Building a Better Business Climate" will be the title of the speech of Lisle L. Berkhire, manager of the western division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, before the Campbell Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting next Wednesday, June 20, at 7 p.m. in the I. O. O. F. Hall, Campbell Ave., at First St.

Because of the prominence of the speaker both members and nonmembers with their wives and husbands of the local C. of C. are urged to attend the meeting by chamber officials. Reservations should be made with Sam Cava, C. of C. manager, by this Saturday.

Berkshire was attached to national headquarters of the C. of C. for six years and became familiar with all phases of chamber of commerce operation. He was made manager of the western division (seven western states) in May, 1952. As western manager he directs and coordinates the activities of the National Chamber, working with local chambers. His office assists in setting up regional and local meetings and in the development of aggressive programs for the local units.

Berkshire has a background of more than 20 years of organization work and has been on the National Chamber staff since 1946.

State Aid Gets Okay Of Voters

By an overwhelming margin, voters on Tuesday in the Campbell Union High School District approved the acceptance of $1,500,000 in state aid for the district. The total vote was 3429 in favor to 569 against, better than a 6-1 margin. A two-thirds favorable vote was necessary.

Superintendent Laurance Hill of the school district and other school officials were pleased with the results of the election which will allow the district to proceed with the purchase of necessary school sites to accommodate the potential enrollment.

State Aid Okay

The State Allocations Board has already approved a loan of $230,000 subject to Tuesday's vote, of one 53-acre site west of the corner of Lovell and Harriett avenues along the San Tomas Aquino Creek. District and state officials met this week to work out details on the project.

Sites have yet to be selected for the two other high schools that will be needed in the district but with funds now available, it is expected that negotiations will get under way immediately. These schools will probably be located in the northwest and northeast portions of the district. Superintendent Hill estimates that by 1960 all three schools will be needed to accommodate the enrollment. By 1958 both Camden and Campbell high schools are expected to reach their capacity.

Jim Williams, Campbell High School senior, was awarded the Lions Club annual trophy for the most improved basketball player in the senior class. Bert Robinson, high school basketball coach, received the Lions Club honorary plaque on behalf of the school.

Ronald Eddlemon was inducted as a new member by Verle Grizzle, zone chairman.

"Automation in Industry", a sound film, was presented by Bob McBain, program chairman.

Bill Quigley presided at the meeting and introduced speakers.

Schools to Open On September 17

District schools, just now closing for the Summer vacation period, will re-open their doors next Sept. 17, according to the 1956-57 school calendar adopted by trustees.

The calendar calls for closing of school a year from now on June 14, providing 176 days of instruction for the coming educational year.

Single-day holidays next year will occur on Armistice Day, Lincoln's and Washington's Birthdays and on Memorial Day. A two-day vacation will be provided at Thanksgiving.

Longest holiday of the year will be at Christmastime, when seven days will be granted. Classes will resume on Jan. 2, 1957. The week preceding Easter will also be a school holiday.

Elementarv Grades Lose 31 Teachers

A total of 31 teachers who have taught in elementary district schools during the past year will not return to class next Fall. Among the group are two veteran teachers, Mrs. Grace Fairbanks and Mrs. Bessie Porter.

Mrs. Porter leaves her post as a teacher in the pediatrics ward of Santa Clara County Hospital, where she has taught youngsters confined to the hospital because of injury or illness. Her job has been to keep these pupils abreast of their school work in order that they can resume their normal place in class when their health permits.

Mrs. Fairbanks leaves the teaching profession as a third grade teacher at Dover School. Both teachers were guests at a special tea in Dover School on June 6, with the faculty as host.

Campbell Elementary School District's teaching staff now numbers 207, with about another 100 persons serving in administration, cafeteria, bus driving, grounds personnel and maintenance positions.

Of the 31 leaving school posts, 10 women are expecting additions to their families, and nine others are leaving to move to other areas of the state, principally because their husbands have changed jobs or for other family reasons.

Among the remainer, reasons for leaving include to enter the Armed Services, homemaking and to take other school positions, according to Dist. Supt. William C. Henley.

Crime Didn't Pay -- Burglars Go Away

An abandoned attempted robbery was discovered early Tuesday morning, when Carl Arnold, Campbell police officer on night duty, noticed the screen had been pushed in at the Florentine Delicatessen on Winchester Road, and an unlocked window opened.

Arnold was unable to locate Terry Letts, proprietor, to notify him of the break-in, until the shop was opened a few hours later. Nothing was taken from the store.

In another attempt at burglary, the metal shop at the grammar school was broken into some time Sunday night and a broken pane of glass led to apprehension of the would-be burglar.

William Mette, metal shop teacher, reported that he had collected about $9 from students last Friday for materials used in class project and suspected a student who thought the money was still in the desk, and was attempting to find the money.

One of the students who came to school Monday morning with several cuts on his fingers, was questioned anw admitted he sustained the wounds on the broken glass. The youth is now in Juve nile Hall.

Speed Too Fast For Conditions Causes Accidents

Speed too fast for conditions is the leading or contributing factor in almost every traffic accident. This tatement made by the California Highway Patrol is based on an analysis of the 1955 traffic toll in California.

"Each added mile per hour of speed not only makes a crash more likely, in that it affects the driver's control but makes the crash more severe", declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This is elementary. If more truism is required, we can look at the fact that practically every traffic accident occurs when the driver or drivers involved can not stop in time to avoid a collision.

"Too many drivers forget that a vehicle traveling 55 miles an hour is traveling 81 feet per second and requires time and space to stop," Caldwell said. "Quite frequently the stated cause of an accident may be running a stop sign or traffic light, violation of a right-of-way or following too closely. In almost every case the main contributing factor is excessive speed.

APPROACH PAYS OFF

Now pending before the Campbell City Council is an annexation petition that would add approximately 57 acres to Campbell on the southern city limits.

This marks one of the largest parcels of land that has been added to the city for some time. Almost 96 percent of the property owners in the area have signed the petition asking to become part of Campbell. The property owners were all contacted by representatives of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

The presentation made to the people by Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was businesslike and intelligent. He showed the tax rates of San Jose and Campbell and explained to the property owners that San Jose was ready to pounce on any area that was available.

We are convinced that other territories also can be added to this city if the people concerned are presented with a true picture of the situation.

San Jose's greedy tactics of gobbling up all land in sight is well known. If anything, this aggressive annexation policy on their part will be accelerated in the future. It leaves no choice to the other cities.

We have long claimed that Campbell must also have an aggressive annexation policy, if our city is to survive against the vicious onslaught from our "big brother."

We think the project now before the Campbell City Council clearly indicates that Campbell can hold its own on the annexation front, if the proper picture is painted .

We would like to see a well-planned program of annexation go into effect. We would like to see a complete study made of all areas adjacent to Campbell with the idea in mind of extending the city limits wherever possible.

This same study should also take into consideration the future plans of San Jose, which we think are quite obvious.

We know that to compete with San Jose on anything like equal terms it takes a great deal of (1) time, and (2) money. Reliable sources claim that San Jose is using both of these factors to a good advantage. It is claimed that paid city employees are openly soliciting property owners to join San Jose, and it is also maintained that subdividers have been offered certain inducements to join up with San Jose.

We know that Campbell is in no position financially or any other way to conduct such unethical practices, and it is disturbing to have to face such unfair competition.

Yet we think there are still a number of areas where logic and common sense will prevail, if the people are properly contacted in time by some official representative of Campbell.

Sam Cava of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce did an excellent job in this one case that is now before the City Council.

We would like to see Cava continue in this work. It means a great deal to the city as a whole—the city will benefit directly from the tax revenue that will be brought in by these additional acres. Even without improvements the taxes represent a sizeable amount. The area is planned to be developed as a light industrial section which will further increase the tax revenue and at the same time bring in additional payrolls and residents.

We reiterate that this one case has proven that the proper approach will pay off. Now all that remains is for someone to devote his time to this approach on other fronts.

CAMPBELL NEEDS ITS C. OF C.

The Board of Directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce hopes to contact within a week all those local business and professional people in the area who have not yet become members of the local Chamber.

The Chamber has been revitalized under the active management of Sam Cava, secretary-manager, and in our opinion has already proved its worth to the community.

Just two accomplishments, promoting a successful Old Settlers' Day and spearheading the annexing of 57 acres to the city, emphasize how well it has been reorganized.

We claim it is absolutely necessary in the face of the tremendous growth and expansion problems that are confronting this area to have a capable full-time manager of the C. of C. But a manage rcannot work on love alone.

A large percentage of the business people voluntarily have paid their dues to the C. of C. when billed because they realize its importance to the community.

However, there are many who have not. Without a full membership, the Chamber of Commerce cannot operate, for it is the money from the membership that keeps the organization solvent.

The directors, all local business people themselves, now must take time from their own businesses to contact those people who have not bothered to remit their dues.

We urge all those who have not paid to be prepared to give the directors their membership dues when they are contacted. Better still, why not send in the money on your own volition?

An analysis of the situation, we are certain, will reveal the ever-increasing importance of Campbell's Chamber of Commerce.

But as a chain, it is only as strong as its weakest link. And every member is a link.

Are you the "Missing Link"?

Have you joined yet?

Gilroy is holding its 23rd annual Roundup and Gymkhana this Sunday with a parade at 1 p.m. and a rodeo at 2 p. m. The program of events sounds interesting (assuming one likes horses and such goings-on). It is billed as a non-profit affair and we were interested in the press release we received which lists it as "the oldest celebration in Santa Clara County."

That makes interesting reading in a sense because our own Old Settlers' Day celebration is advertised as the second oldest celebration in the state, only exceeded in seniority by the Pasadena Rose Tournament.

Now we are not about to run down Gilroy's big event in any respect but we sorta thought we ought to get together on which is which. In age, that is.

Actually it doesn't make a whale of a lot of difference in any event, except to give credit where credit is due. Gilroy's deal is just going on 23-years of age, a mere infant compared to Campbell's Old Settlers' Day which this year marked its 64th anniversary.

Maybe Gilroy means its the oldeste rodeo in Santa Clara County. That we may have to go along with. By no stretch of the imagination, we're thinking, can our celebration be termed a rodeo.

Last week's column carried on in some length about hub de-capping. We attributed that swiping of hub caps off Oldsmobiles (our car included) to the work of "hooligans!"

Matt Davis, head man for Nubs Schoenberger at the Shell Service Station at Campbedd and Central, took exception to the word "hooligan".

Matt, who did five years service with the U. S. Coast Guard, reports that the word "hooligan" should be treated with more respect, for members of the Coast Guard refer to themselves as "hooligans".

We don't blame Matt for disliking to see this term of "endearment" for his favorite armed service linked with the characters who remove hub caps without benefit of the owner's permission.

But for the benefit of Matt (and other Coast Guardsmen) we will try to refrain from castigating this outstanding branch of defense by referring to crooks as "hooligans".

However, Webster doesn't take the Coast Guard into consideration in listing the definition of the word as " . . . a young ruffian . . . a member of a street gang . . . a hoodlum.' ' (Webster also reports that it originates from an Irish family in southern England. But we won't go into that. We happen to be half-Irish.)

We got a big bang out of one exchange of sallies at the Planning Commission meeting.

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, was having a little difficulty in hanging the map on the stand which illustrated the exchange of property between Myron English and the Assembly of God church. An amicable arrangement had been worked out between the parties and the Commission had been asked to rezone the area to accommodate both parties.

In contrast to some of the issues before the Commission this one was worked out in the highest degree of friendliness. Good humor prevailed on all sides.

But Nestor Barrett had a heck of time getting low enough to show the commissioners where the location was on the map.

"You had better get on your knees, Nester," chairman Homer Hyde called out.

"Hey, Homer, that's my department," Rev. Herbert Johnson of the Assembly of God Church advised.

So with this spirit of good fellowship, the Commission okayed the zone change.

There could be a moral in this some place, if one took the time to look for it.

We think Lowell Benson, of Benson's Campbell Cleaners, along with other cleaners in the country, should be commended for their proposal to clean all American Flags free provided they are flown on Flag Day, which is today, by the way.

Last week we ran a pictures of Lowell and Sherm Lindsay, of the cleaners, and Postmaster Ira Grim examining the post office flag to illustrate this worthwhile offer.

We were quite pleased in the way the picture turned out (even if we did take it). It even brought out the background of colorful wall paper of the cleaners about as vividly as black and white could possibly do.

That was one time that color photography would have come in mighty handy in order to do justice to both the flag and wallpaper.

Personnel Head Reports Results Of Police Exams

Two regular Campbell policemen are eligible for the sergeancy vacancy in the police department and eight of 12 applicants are eligible for patrolmen, according to the results of competitive examinations, that were announced this week by Robert Thompson, personnel consultant for the city.

This marks the first time in local history that applicants for a city position must first qualify through examinations.

Under the employment procedure recommended by Thompson after a lengthy survey and adopted some months ago by the City Council, the examinations for positions in the city are conducted by the Personnel Board. At the present time the board consists of all five councilmen and two lay members, Mrs. Laura Worshing and Milton J. Mayer.

The Personnel Board will meet tonight to officially act on names of the successful applicants for the police jobs. Under the personnel plan, a department head must select his appointments from the eligibility list furnished by the Personnel Board.

The Personnel Board will also make other recommendations tonight, Thompson reports as to further policies of the new system. Thompson stressed also that appointments cannot be made by the various departments until the funds have been allotted in the budget. The budget for the next fiscal year will not be adopted until next month.

Both written and oral examinations were conducted for the police. Officers John Morgan and Dick Mayne passed both phases of the sergeancy examination. Eligible for appointment as patrolman, if the positions are authorized are, Robert Allen, Francis Edmonds, Charles Morton, George McFadden, Richard Sutton, Edward Funderburgh, James Geiger, and Donald Burr.

WILLOW GLEN EDITOR BLASTS SHERIFF AIDES

The editor and publisher of the weekly Willow Glen Resident, Harvey D. Jordan, who in a front page editorial last week accused Santa Clara County deputy sheriffs of "gestapo-type police action" in the serving of a misdemeanor warrant, this week announced via the same means that he had asked the Grand Jury to investigate the sheriff's department.

In his first editorial, Jordan claimed that deputies had come twice to his home one night (once after midnight) to serve a warrant on his wife for payment of a $6 misdemeanor fine. She had failed to have a driver's license when a hit-run-driver slammed into the rear of her car.

Jordan took exception to the tactics employed, the discourtesy and the threats of the deputies who carried out their assignment, he wrote, in a "disgusting, high-handed and melodramatic manner".

Sheriff Melvin L. Hawley, according to Jordan's editorial this week, chose to consider the editorial charge as a personal insult and rather than enter into a name-calling battle with the sheriff, the editor announced this week, that the entire episode had been turned over by him to the Santa Clara County Grand Jury.

Campaign Charge Draws No Comment

School officials in this area who were accused after the Primary Election by the successful Democratic candidate for assemblyman from the county of "unethical campaigning" for his opponent, declined this week to make any comment on the situation.

William Harris, 29th assembly district Democratic standard-bearer, claimed that Superintendents Laurance Hill, of the high school district, William Henley of the elementary district and D. M. Bagby of Cambrian used the prestige of their offices to further the candidacy of Bruce Allen, incumbent, who easily won the Republican nomination.

All three of the superintendents have claimed that Allen had performed great service for the rural schools in sponsoring legislation which guarantees school district boundaries when they are crossed by city annexations. The local districts were particularly vulnerable in this respect in the face of San Jose's aggressive annexation policy.

LAW IN ACTION

SQUATTERS' RIGHTS IN OUTERSPACE

That Chicago subdivider the other day won't have a leg to stand on in court if you beat him to the Moon and jump his claim by working on the land there.

John Locke, our Constitution's granddaddy, told Englishmen in 1690 who had title to new lands, like those then opening up in America. And those on the Moon today.

For Locke, you had God-given rights to "life, liberty, and property." Government's only rightful aim is, with your consent, to guard those rights. "Powers not delegated", as our Tenth Amendment puts it, "are reserved to the people."

How then do you get title to land in a place without government like the Moon?

Locke answered: "By work."

"God gave the world to men in common. He gave it to the use of the industrious and rational—and labor was to be man's title to property . . . All that his labor could extend to . . . was his."

Our land policy came right out of Locke: Squatters used to have first rights on public lands. Even today homesteaders and miners must live and work upon the land to get title.

A century after Christ, Lucian's "True History" tells of his space trip to the Hippogyps on the Moon. There he and his crew found Endymion's kingdom making ready for war on the Sun-folk in a race to colonize the Morning Star. On their way back to Earth, Lucian saw Cloudcukootown, just as reported by Aristophanes, "a grave man and truthful."

So your Chicago subdivider may have to cope with Lunar law. Otherwise, under the Law of Nature, the first settlers to reach the moon and work the land will own it. Their homeland on Earth may claim the place by right of discovery.

The head of the American Rocket Society today objects to such a claim. He wants the United Nations, in mankind's name, to take title to Outerspace. But did the people delegate such power to the U. N.? Would non-members be bound? Besides, while man owns Earth, isn't it a bit impious to lay claim to the Moon? Or Outerspace? That is, and not work it?

Three Teams Rest In First Place In Cambrian LL

Three teams were deadlocked for first place in the Cambrian Little League at the close of the week's play last Saturday. No Cal Construction, Mac's Market and Robins each had won two and lost one. The Methodist Men was the only team not yet getting into the win column.

The Methodist Men, however, came close to taking No Cal Construction on Thursday, losing only by a score of 9-7 when Bill Kellogg for the construction boys broke up the game with a homer with a man on in the last half of the sixth. Dave Bachman scattered five hits while striking out 13 men for the winners.

The Methodist Men went ahead in the fifth when Randy Howard slammed out a two run homerun.

No Cal Construction won its second game of the week on Saturday when the builders took Mac's Market by a 8-6 score. Ronnie Willett was the winning pitcher allowing only four hits while Ted Perry, who shared first base and mound duties with Dean Bowman, was listed as the losing pitcher.

The Methodists bowed to Robins 12-5 on Saturday, although they were pretty even on the hits collected, getting six to the Robins seven. Dean Flory received credit for being the winning pitcher.

The Robins lost a thriller to Mac's Market on Wednesday by a 5-4 score when George Vierra, 70-pound giant center-fielder for the Marketmen broke up a tight game with a smashing single into centerfield scoring Dick Ucci ahead of him. Ucci had reached first base on a fielder's choice.

Mac's Market had to come from behind in the final frame to win from the scrappy Robins. Steve Wilson was the big gun for the Robins getting three for three.

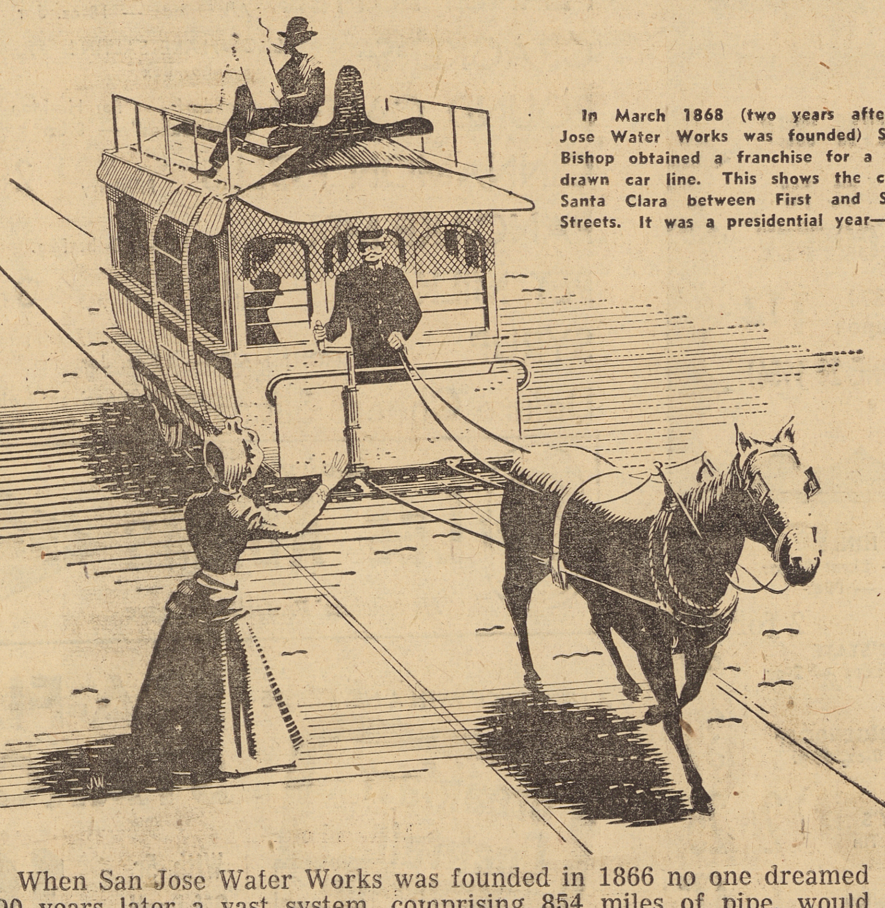
90 YEARS
OF DEPENDABLE WATER SERVICE



In March 1868 (two years after San Jose Water Works was founded) Samuel Bishop obtained a franchise for a horse-drawn car line. This shows the car on Santa Clara between First and Second Streets. It was a presidential year—1876.

When San Jose Water Works was founded in 1866 no one dreamed that 90 years later a vast system, comprising 854 miles of pipe, would serve more than 66,000 customers located over an area of 100 square miles!

Yet that is the result, today, of the foresight which has characterized the management of the "oldest privately-owned water utility in California" during its 90 years of dependable water service.

Among the many examples of advance planning is the dual source of water which supplies the rapidly expanding population of Santa Clara Valley: one in the clear blue man-made lakes in the Santa Cruz mountains; the other in the deep wells, strategically located in the floor of the valley. Together they bring adequate water to our homes and insure constant protection from disaster.

We are proud to serve this dynamic area and to be an important factor in its amazing growth.

Herb Raymond's Team

Unsponsored Team Holds First Place In Campbell Little League Play

Herb Raymond's so far unsponsored Campbell Little League team was heading the league at the end of last week with a 3-0 record having knocked over Campbell Stamp (6-1) and Campbell Lumber (10-7).

Behind the two-hit pitching of Lonnie Raymond, who racked up his second win of the season, Raymond's outfit took Campbell Stamp on Tuesday and then on Friday with Johnny Zintz on the mound came from behind to nip the Lumbermen who had a 7-5 lead going into the last of the fifth.

In their part of the fifth Herb's gang scored five runs with Jeff Hecker providing the match to the fire with a two run single. In this battle Mike DeVita, Hoot Meredith and Lonnie Raymond each got two hits apiece for the winners with Mike Overhulse doing the same for the losers.

Tuesday's Game

In Tuesday's game against the Stampers, Lonnie Raymond struck out 11 batters while only walking two in turning in his sparkling two-hit performance on the mound. Larry Elizando, shortstop for Raymond, was the only hitter on his team to collect more than one hit. He banged out two singles. The crucial blow of the game was a two run double in the fourth inning by Mike DeVita. Dave Buck and Berry Yoshida were the lone Stampers to get hits in the contest.

Stamps in Second

Campbell Stamp rests in second place in the league by virtue of its shut-out over Western Gravel on Saturday by a 5-0 count. Dave Buck, who started the season with a no-hit, no-run game racked up another no-run game to his credit but allowed the Gravelmen three hits this time. Buck by Saturday had pitched 12 consecutive scoreless innings. He struck out 11 Gravelmen and walked two in Saturday's battle.

Larry Hewitt was the big hitter for the Stampers, banging out three sharp singles in three times at bat. Johnny Short, Gravel pitcher, Bruck Beechie and Bob Boyd collected the hits given up by Buck during the fray. Frank Testa for the winners did ok also at the plate getting two for three.

Gravel Beats Lumber

Western Gravel took the count of Campbell Lumber on Monday by a 15-2 walk-away. Gravelmen collected 13 hits while the best the Lumbermen could do was two. Joe Newland pitched a two hitter and struck out 12 and added fuel to the fire by walloping a homerun in the second inning with a mate on board. In two other trips to the plate he collected a single and double. Jim Bailey for the Gravelmen also collected three hits from three trips to the plate.

E. Soper Receives Coro Scholarship

Miss Elva Soper, who received her law degree from the University of Southern California at commencement exercises last Saturday night, was recently selected as one of twelve students to receive a $1500 Coro Foundation scholarship.

Miss Soper, daughter of Mrs. Zelma Soper, is a 1949 graduate of Campbell High School.

During her third year she was awarded a $300 scholarship by the Women's Auxiliary of the Santa Clara County Bar Association for high attainment of scholarship, extra curricular activities and citizenship. She is past president of the Epsilon chapter of Iota Tau Tau pre-legal honorary society and in 1953 was one of twelve U. S. C. students mentioned in Who's Who in American Colleges.

At that time she became a member of the Amazons, a women's service honorary and was vice president of the U. S. C. International Relations committee. She was student union chairman and member of the student council. She received an AB in International Relations.

Miss Soper plans to take the state bar examination in September and is interested in going into public affairs work, and is particularly interested in affiliating with the National Labor Relations Board.

Mrs. Matt Helmbold of 535 South Union Ave., Campbell, went back east recently to visit her brother in Chicago, Illinois, who was ill. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Frances Rexroad, who will stay on in Chicago for the summer. Mrs. Helmbold returned to Campbell last week, now that her brother is on the road to recovery.

Moorpark Faculty Frolics at Feast

Two Moorpark faculty members were feted with housewarming parties last Thursday, and another with a surprise wedding shower, when their fellow teachers gathered together for the occasions.

The evening began with a potluck dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hilscher in their new Los Gatos home. When they later gathered in the Ed Walters new home for dessert, Miss Marie Gromo and her fiance were surprised with a wedding shower.

Faculty members gathered for another frolic last Sunday when they met in the Robert Guio home on Robin Lane for their annual barbecue picnic.

Netops Meet for Progressive Meal

When Sequoia Sewing Club of Netops Council Degree of Pocatontas held their progressive dinner on June 6, they started off with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres in the home of Mrs. Eugene Hodges. The party then progressed to the home of Mrs. Robert Loveday for salad and then moved on to Mrs. Clarence Cole's for the entree and concluded the dinner with dessert in the home of Mrs. Mal Dorsett.

Following dessert, secret pals were revealed and new pals chosen. It was announced that the club will discontinue meetings for the summer and will reconvene in September.

When Netops Council No. 247 held their regular meeting on June 8 in the I. O. O. F. Hall, Chiefs for the ensuing term were elected.

Following the business meeting members surprised Mrs. Harold Jordan with a stork shower.

At a subsequent meeting on June 13, Mrs. Ray Gilpatrick was hostess to the Past Pocahontas Club at their last current session.

Mrs. George Reynolds presided over the business meeting when possible delegates to this year's great sun session were decided upon, and arrangements made for the dinner which the group held at Hal's in Los Altos yesterday.

Present at this session were: Mmes. Thelma Nelson, George Reynolds, Clarence Cole, EugeneHodges, Ray Gilpatrick, Elmer Anderson, Donald Johnson, Stanis Rohde, and their guest, Mrs. John Morris.

James Lick, early-day San Francisco financier, left several million dollars for scientific, charitable and education purposes at his death.

Speed Control Is Vital, Says CHP

"Speed control is vital to car control".

This statement was made recently by California Hikhway Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell as plans were made to cope with the record flow of traffic expected this summer on California streets and highways.

"Slow drivers as well as fast drivers are responsible for a large number of traffic accidents each year," Caldwell said. "We can eliminate these accidents by always driving within the lawful speed for the area traversed. This means keeping the car under full control at all times through safe and sane speeds and alertness to all other traffic rules.

"Our enforcement action will cover all violations but, specific emphasis will continue to be placed on violations of the speed law including those against slow driving."

PG&E Employees To Receive Awards At Dinner Tonight

Three local residents will be among the 15 employees that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company will honor at a service badge award dinner at Hawaiian Gardens, San Jose, this evening.

They are among 4,230 PG&E people throughout Northern and Central California who will receive badges this month in recognition of their years of service, according to L. J. Brundige, San Jose Division Manager. Employees are honored after each five-year period of service.

"Experience is one of the most important factors in providing superior utility service," Brundige said. "The value to the company and its customers of people like these who grow in their jobs year after year cannot be over emphasized. They form the heart and backbone of the PG&E employee organization that enables the company to continue its steady growth in Central and Northern California."

Brundige noted that 900 people in the group will be recognized this spring for 20 years or more of service. Almost 3,500 of PG&E's 17,400 employees have now been with the company two decades or more.

Badges will be awarded at the dinner to the following: 35 years of service to C. H. West, and for 10 years of service to R. F. Liles, A. G. Wayne.

Patrol to Arrest Litter Bugs on California Roads

Persons apprehended scattering trash and rubbish along highways will be arrested says the California Highway Patrol in emphasizing an enforcement program designed to curtail this type of activity in California.

"A law prohibiting the throwing of cans, bottles, papers, garbage and other refuse on our highways was placed in the California Vehicle Code by the 1955 Legislature," said Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This restriction against litterbugs prohibits the scattering of trash anywhere along the right-of-way of a public highway."

"The Patrol will continue positive enforcement action against violators of this law," Caldwell continued. "Our highways can be kept clean and beautiful if motorists will carry a trash bag or other receptacle and keep cans, papers and trash in the car until it can be disposed of properly.

"Everyone should want clean highways, so don't rely on enforcement agencies to stop littering.

"Do it yourself."

Pen Brings Cash To Essay Writers

Some Campbell students are richer by a few dollars as a result of their literary efforts. Throughout the year there have been essay contests sponsored by various local and national organizations. Prizes of cash or bonds were the attraction, and many students responded with papers which won prizes.

In the San Jose Real Estate Board contest on the subject of "Why I Want To Own My Own Home", Campbell had three winners: Fran Smith, $100 bond, Sally Alpers, $25 bond; and Steve Dunn, $25 bond.

"The Constitution of the United States" was the subject of the American Legion Auxiliary essay contest. Tom Goulding won a $10 second prize.

Three students won prizes for their papers on "Freedom of the Press", sponsored by the League of Women Voters; Fran Smith, first, $15; Jim Lewellen, second ,$5; and Donna Vroom, third, $5.

For an essay on "My Career", Fran Smith won a $25 bond. This contest was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women.

Diane Patterson had her poem, "Goodbye", published in the Anthology of High School poetry, a book published annually, made up completely of poems submitted by high school students.

For those who have a flair for writing, these essay contests, most of them renewed each year, offer chances to gain recognition and to win money for college expenses.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Roses can be planted all through the year. Container-grown Roses in full bloom are now being offered.

2. Cut down your water bill: Well fertilized lawns require less water.

3. Bush roses can be lightly summer pruned for shape after they finish their Spring bloom.

4. All acid loving plants such as Rhododendrons, Azaleas and Camellias should be fertilized now.

5. Spray the whole garden with chlordane to control ants and earwigs.

Father's Day Gifts

Here's a sure way to please a gardening Father come Father's Day. Give him garden tools, equipment and books. There's not a Father alive in this state who wouldn't be pleased with more equipment for his gardening jobs and when questions arise, garden books will provide Dad with all the "hows" and "wherefores" about gardening techniques.

The clipping job—keeping hedges and low-growing bushes tidy—is a hard one and the California Association of Nurserymen says Fathers will surely appreciate a gift of electric shears. The bigger gardening jobs, such as spreading fertilizers, hauling plants, edging the lawn, spraying plants and trees—require bigger equipment. For these jobs a fertilizer spreader, wheelbarrow, lawn edger and sprayer would be real boons.

But don't forget the smaller items which are needed to carry on a thorough garden program. For watering the lawn, there are various types of sprinklers, some that revolve, others that are stationary but can be adjusted to sprinkle in varying degrees of intensity. And of course no garden job is very pleasant without gardening gloves; make sure Dad has a pair in good condition.

Although they may not sound quite as glamorous as other types of gardening equipment, the dependable and often-used spade, hoe, rake and shovel are indispensible items in any gardener's life. A hand trowel is useful too and if, in your Dad's garden, the upper crust of the soil becomes caked and hard, a spiker or aerator will certainly be appreciated.

Summer Flowering Perennials

Paint your garden red, yellow, pink and blue with summer-flowering perennials and you'll not only enjoy wonderful bright colors outdoors but beautiful cut flowers for attractive indoor bouquets as well.

Pale yellow and deep gold flowers, daisy-like in shape, bloom on the yellow Marguerite. The Marguerite is available in white also.

The Dalmatian Bellflower (Campanula Portenschdagiana), six to 15 inches in height, is an outstanding border plant. It blooms from May to July with violet-blue, flared, bell-like flowers set amidst rich green foliage. This summer perennial may bloom a second time during early Fall.

Another long-blooming perennial is the Chrysanthemum. There are of course many Chrysanthemum species and varieties, offering the gardener a wide range of colors and blossom forms. Carnations and Sweet Williams, known as Dianthus caryophyllus and Dianthus barbatus, respectively, are two members of a large family well known and liked as summer perennials. The Carnation has long lasting blooms in white, pink, rose, red, yellow and salmon and in combinations of these colors. Sweet William's blooms are not as ruffled as the Carnation's but there are large clusters of flowers in unusual shades, such as scarlet, wine and flesh.

Considered by authorities as the most richly textured and sophisticated of all daisies, the Transvaal Daisy (Gerbera Jamesoni) has an extremely long blooming period, May to December—with peak bloooming periods in early summer and late Fall. Single or double flowers of pink, yellow, cream, coral, pale orange, red and white bloom above rosettes of gray green leaves on the lovely plant.

Colorful Hanging Baskets

Have you tried hanging "colors" in your patio, lanai, entrance-way or porch? Hanging baskets of cascading, colorful perennials are an attractive way of decorating your outdoor living areas.

Hanging baskets fall into the category of container gardening. There are a great many plants that do just as well in hanging baskets as in the ground and one of these is the Fuchsia, particularly its trailing varieties. A real eye-catching trailing Fuchsia variety, quite resistant to the heat but not full sun of the interior valleys, is Aurora Superba. It blooms in shades of light and intense orange. Carmine and pink are the bloom colors of Cascade, another fine hanging basket fuchsia.

The lovely ivy-like foliage of the Ivy Geranium (Pelargonium peltatum) makes it an especially fine basket planting and as an added attraction it has single or double flowers in white, pink, rose, red and lavender.

Lantanas, particularly in dwarf or trailing forms, are also pleasing in hanging baskets. L. sellowiana, often called the Trailing Lantana, is a spreading, rapid grower, very hardy, with fragrant orchid-lavender flowers. Another Lantana, L. callowiana Goldrush, is a new hybrid between L. sellowiana and L. camara; its flowers are saffron yellow and it grows low and trailing.

The silvery-gray foliage of the Lotus makes this perennial highly valued as a hanging basket subject. Lotus Berthelotii has sweet-pea-shaped flowers of scarlet fading to orange; L. mascaensis's flowers are bright yellow.
